SECRETARY BAKER ISSUES STATEMENT ON NEGRO OFFICERS

Colnoel Young Restored to Duty--War Secretary Lauds Negro Officers--Division of 30,000 Being Organized.

In response to a letter from Dean Kelly Miller of Howard University, Secretary Baker issued a statement, July 7, to the effect that Col. Young has been restored to active duty. Dean Miller's letter to the secretary transmitted the complaint of Attorney Charles S. Gordon of Los Angeles, which represented the possibility of injustice being done Col. Young at the present time. The correspondence follows:

My Dear Prof. Miller:

Through you to the students of Howard I desire to extend my congratulations on their success in procuring the training camp for Negro officers at Des Moines. Considering all the circumstances and conditions existing in our country today, it certainly was a great victory of the students of Howard for our race. Since they have done so well in that matter, I am inclined to invoke their aid in an effort originating with me, for a greater victory along the same lines.

You perhaps have already heard that Captain Davis, of the Ninth Cavalry, has been sent to the Philippines with his Cavalry in spite of his request for permission to remain and render service with the colored soldiers in France. You perhaps also know that Lieut. Col. Young has been ordered to Presidio, our army hospital, or medical observation and Col. Young is, according to my investigation, enjoying the very best treatment. In spite of the fact that health of his life. There seems to be a disposition on the part of the administration to either isolate our regular commissioned army officers, or put them on the retired list, and it would be contrary to the time-honored custom and precedent of the War Department, to order commissioned officers into the army hospital, and then permit them to come out of that hospital, except on the retired list. It is the opinion of men well informed on the subject, in this locality, that Col. Young will be retired by the government for the purpose of preventing his further advancement in the army, and his actual participation in the present war.

You remember that the only three commissioned officers in the regular army, aside from the army chaplain are Col. Young, Capt. Davis, now en route to the Philippines, and Capt. Green, stationed at Liberia, all of whom ought to be considered in the organization of the separate division of the 30,000 colored troops being organized. But it now appears that neither of these officers will, in any way, be connected or associated with that division. It would certainly be as cowardly an act on our part to sit idly by and submit, without protest, to the retirement of Young, as it will be on the part of the War Department, through its Army hospital, which brings it about. I am also informed that an Ohio senator protested vigorously against the department's order of Davis to the Philippines, but of course, without avail. Isn't there some method which can be pursued in behalf of our colored commissioned officers which would not embarrass them on the records of the war department?

CHARLES S. DARDEN.

In transmitting this letter Prof. Miller said:

The Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Sir: I beg leave to submit the enclosed complaint against the War Department. I am indignant to believe that any department of the government of the United States would place a stumbling block in the way of the patriotism of the humblest American citizen. I beg to hope that the War Department, through an authorized statement, will set at rest all such suspicions as are contained in the enclosed communication.

July 5, 1917.

KELLY MILLER.

In response to Dean Miller's letter on July 7, the War Department issued the following statement:

Dear Dean Miller:

I have received your note of July 5, and return herewith the complaint which you enclosed. I am very happy to tell you that the work at Des Moines Camp is progressing remarkably well, and the reports I have from it are very good. The spirit of the men in this camp is apparently this: that the government is going to do a very great deal of good, both to the country and to the men involved.

Your correspondent writes chiefly concerning Lieut. Col. Young, a colored officer of the regular army and a graduate of West Point, and a man with a fine record for service in the army. Some time ago a board of officers passed upon his health and found him completely incapacitated for service; not obviously and visibly, but because, unfortunately, of their finding that he was afflicted with a chronic disease. My recollection is that it was Bright's disease. The report of the board was approved by the surgeon general, but in view of the fact that Col. Young's record

K. OF P. GRAND SESSION JULY 24TH

Roscoe C. Simmons to be Present--Great Plans Made--Military Department.

The K. of P. Grand Lodge delegation will stop at the "Y" next week. Room and board will be provided by the Association. Everything is in ship shape for their entertainment and comfort. The Court of Calantheans will use the big Auditorium for their annual session--four days. There will be a joint session of both the K. of P. and the Court of Calantheans with Roscoe C. Simmons to speak one night. The hall on this night will be taxed to its utmost. The Committee of Management is standing by the Secretary in working out plans for taking care of the delegation. They have expressed the desire to have their every possible comfort provided for.

The young people's church Auxiliaries are planning a program which will be rendered each evening in the Association lobby. Mr. E. L. Klier, of the People's Savings Bank and at one time Secretary of the Methodist Sunday School Alliance of the city, is taking the initiative in arranging the program. He is a strong K. of P., being a representative to the present State Grand Lodge. It is understood that he will call upon some of the leading ladies of the city for a selection in music or a reading.

Mr. William Stephens, a young man who was at one time the leading pugilist in Nashville, is working up a strong and attractive physical exhibition. The numbers will probably consist of wrestling and boxing bouts and some other physical stunts.

A moving picture exhibition has been promised which will be interesting from beginning to end. It is likely that these short entertainments, somewhere between seven and eight o'clock, will prove interesting for not only the visitors but the local friends as well.

The K. of P. Committee on entertainment has expressed their thanks in advance for this special feature of entertainment. Certainly there will be no charge for admission.

Following this on Sunday, the 29th at 3 p. m., will be a great day for Railroad Men of the City of Nashville. The 12th annual sermon of the Railway Employees' Protective Association and the Ladies' Auxiliary will be preached by Dr. W. S. Ellington, pastor of the First Baptist Church East Nashville and the choir from that church will sing.

It is the hope of the Committee of Management that there will be a large number of the Association friends and workers present. It is well known what this organization through its members has done for the Y. M. C. A. in Nashville, its president from the beginning planned for the cooperation of the two organizations.

The program is as follows:

Opening song, by Choir.

Prayer, by Chaplain, J. P. Carney.

Music, by choir.

Remarks by Pres. of Men's Department, H. B. Bell.

Remarks by Pres. of Ladies' Department, Mrs. Annie Cartmell.

Music, Life's Railway to Heaven.

Sermon, Rev. W. S. Ellington.

Music--"God be with you till we meet again."

Benediction.

To Speak to Knights and Calantheans, Y. M. C. A. Auditorium.

DEATH OF MRS. FANNIE REYNOLDS.

On last Wednesday the Death Angel summoned Mrs. Fannie Reynolds, wife of Mr. Henry Reynolds, of Fourteenth Ave. S. to lay aside her earthly labors and accompany him to her heavenly home to eternal rest. Mrs. Reynolds was in the pursuit of one of her most pleasurable duties, that of crocheting, when the angel came. The summons was so sudden that no one had knowledge of it. She passed suddenly, but peacefully away. This sudden taking away was a great shock to her relatives as well as to her host of friends.

Mrs. Reynolds was an ardent member of Clark Memorial Chapel where she faithfully and cheerfully performed her every duty. She was a consistent and faithful Christian and an untiring worker for her church. She has been president of the Ladies'

Guild, an organization of the church, ever since its organization.

Funeral services were held Friday morning at 11 o'clock from the church where she labored and which she loved. Rev. T. W. Stephens officiated at the obsequies, being assisted by Rev. S. Strathmore and Dr. S. M. Uley.

Mrs. Reynolds was a most lovable woman and was loved by a host of people. She was active in social life as in the church and was president of the Lily of Valley Art Club. The members of this club as well as those of the Ladies' Guild, attended the funeral in a body.

The auditorium of Clark Chapel was filled with a concourse of sorrowing friends who are loathe to give up their dear coworker, but who bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well.

A large offering of flowers attested to the love of friends and the esteem in which she was held.

She leaves to mourn her "going home," a loving husband, three brothers, one sister and a host of other relatives and friends.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving memory of our beloved mother, Mary E. Hancock, who passed away, July 20, 1916.

More and more each day we miss you. Friends may think the wound is healed;

But they little know the sorrow.

That lies beneath our hearts concealed.

Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother;

It is sweet to breath thy name;

In life we loved you dearly.

In death we do the same.

Your loving children,

Hester L. Patton.

ATLANTA AWARD-ED FIRST PRIZE

Salisbury, S. C., and New Madria, Mo., Win Second-Cup to be Given At Chattanooga.

Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, July 16--The three Silver Cups which were offered by Mr. Allen W. Clark, Chairman of the National "Clean Up and Paint Up" Bureau of Saint Louis, Missouri, for the most effective clean up work during the National Negro Health Week, which was observed April 21-28, will be awarded to Atlanta, Georgia; Salisbury, North Carolina, and New Madria, Missouri. These beautifully engraved cups will be presented to representatives of these respective cities during the next annual meeting of the National Negro Business League, which is to be held at Chattanooga, Tennessee, August 15, 16, 17, 1917.

The Atlanta Committee to which the first prize has been awarded presented a most interesting report, which shows how they worked with the aid of twenty-five local organizations and employed 21 active workers. Mr. H. B. Pace, Secretary of the Standard Life Insurance Company, is President of the Atlanta Committee, and Mrs. John Hope, General Chairman.

The campaign in Salisbury, North Carolina, was conducted under the general direction of the Salisbury-Civil League, of which Mrs. W. F. Kelley is President. The work of the New Madria Committee was conducted under the direction of the Colored Home Protection League, of which Rev. J. W. D. Mayes is President.

The reports from Nashville, Tennessee; Calhoun, Alabama, and Evansville, Indiana, deserve special mention and it is the hope of the officers in charge that the reports of the committees named by the judges for prizes and for special mention may be in booklet form, as guides for the observance of future Clean Up Weeks.

The judges in the contest were as follows:

Dr. Robert E. Jones, Editor Southwestern Christian Advocate, New Orleans, Louisiana; Dr. A. M. Curtis, Physician and Surgeon, former Surgeon-in-Chief, Freedmen's Hospital, Washington, D. C.; Hon. J. C. Napier, President, National Negro Business League, Nashville, Tennessee; Dr. Robert R. Moton, Principal, Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Alabama; Mr. Herman E. C.; Mr. Eugene Kinckle Jones, Executive Secretary, National League on Urban Conditions Among Negroes, New York City; Dr. A. Wilberforce Williams, Physician and Surgeon, Health Editor Chicago Defender, Chicago, Illinois.

Chattanooga is wide awake with interest and activity preparing for the next meeting of the League, and the program which is now nearing completion, includes a long list of successful business men and women, whose stories of struggle and success will make the session one of inspiration to all who may be present.

Various communities are already arranging for special delegations and the railroads are co-operating by offering reduced rates and arranging for the special care and accommodation of the delegates and officers. For detailed information write to J. C. Napier, President, Nashville, Tennessee; T. J. Elliott, Chairman of the Executive Committee, Muskogee, Oklahoma; or Emmett J. Scott, Secretary, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama.

BEAUTY HINTS.

In order to be beautiful one must be clean.

Before retiring at night bath the face water in which oatmeal has been soaked.

Borax will whiten the hands. If colors are not becoming to your complexion, do not wear them, even if they are all the rage.

Find the style of dress that is most becoming to you and stick to it.

Deodorants are to be had at all the drug stores. If troubled perspiration of order secure at bottle.

Dieting will often help an ugly skin. Every woman has a natural set of pearls. Take care of them. Have your dentist go over them for you occasionally. It will pay in the end.

Smile and keep age away. If you have not learned that habit, start cultivating it now.

Large women should never wear stripes.

MISSIONARY BAPTIST CONVENTION OF TENNESSEE ADJOURNS

Great Meeting at Smyrna--Women's Auxiliary In Great Meeting--Laymen's Department Well Represented.

DEATH OF PROF. J. M. WINDROW OF MURFREESBORO, TENN.

Murfreesboro, July 16--Special to the Globe.--Prof. James Madison Windrow was born Jan. 2nd 1859 and departed this life July 14th 1917 at 1 p. m., age 58 years 6 months and 12 days. He was a good honest Christian gentleman. Professed a hope in Christ in 1882 and joined the Missionary Baptist Church, was baptized by Rev. William Haynes, was educated at Roger Williams University, and married Mrs. Dolores Sales Copeland in 1885, having lived a faithful, devoted and loving husband nearly 32 years, during which time he taught school for more than 20 years, after which he was engaged in the grocery business 11 years, and was an upright honest merchant serving his customers faithfully and cheerfully. He was beloved by white and black, rich and poor. No hungry beggar passed his door unnoticed. His life was spent for his people. He was active in church and social circles, and his music second to none. He leaves a loving and affectionate wife, a dear mother, a loving sister, a step father, an uncle and several cousins, also many other relatives to mourn his loss.

He said he wanted to sing praises to God, but was too weak but he was going to join the Heavenly Choir. He said he was so happy, and too, there would be no sorrow there. He was beloved by all who knew him, and his door stood ajar for friends and strangers alike, regardless of conditions. He was sought and hunted for when one was in trouble and very few were ever turned away without his compassion. This town has lost one of its greatest men and citizens of today, and may God bless us with another like him, but we fear his place will not be filled.

One of the largest and most impressive funerals ever held in Murfreesboro among Negroes, was that of Prof. J. M. Windrow, which was conducted at Key's Memorial M. E. Church last Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The funeral services were conducted by Revs. R. T. Weatherby of North Carolina, J. H. Thompson of Murfreesboro and Wm. Haynes of Nashville.

The life of this good and much loved Christian gentleman was beautifully portrayed by each of these prominent divines.

Rev. Weatherby said if anyone living, knew Prof. Windrow, he did because of the close relationship that had existed between them since their first acquaintance several years ago. Rev. Weatherby is a fluent speaker and from the beginning to the end of his discourse, the vast audience was deeply interested.

In short, he said that the good deeds of this broad hearted man were too numerous to mention for his had been a life lived for others.

Rev. William Haynes next spoke of the life of Prof. Windrow from his boyhood up to the present day.

He said he became interested in "Jim" as he called him when quite a boy, carried him to Roger Williams and made it possible for him to receive his education. Some years after he was converted and baptized under his pastorate; he said he also performed the marriage ceremony which united him and Mrs. Delorah Sales Copeland into holy matrimony.

Rev. Haynes paid many loving tributes to the beautiful life of this good man and said he not only loved him as a true friend, but as a near relation.

Smyrna, Tenn.--After being in session for five days the Baptist forces of the state adjourned their sessions here last Sunday with a big educational rally held at the First Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon. Many records were broken during the week for real work accomplished. The Missionary Baptist State Convention through its various departments and reports showed that the gigantic task begun last year at Columbia was reaching a successful conclusion. One of the biggest features of the whole convention was the report on the purchase of the Theological Seminary and Training School, which has just been secured and located in Nashville, Tenn. Every department of the denominational work had a part on the program and was well represented.

The Woman's Auxiliary, which held its sessions in a neighboring church, the B. Y. P. U. and Sunday School forces, together with the Laymen's Department of the State were all represented. The Convention was inspired as never before when West Tennessee, headed by a big delegation from the Cumberland River, West Tennessee and Kentucky Association, bringing thirty or more delegates, reported to the Convention for enrollment. Some of the leading men in the western part of the State with the highest churches are identified with this association. One of the most interesting features of the whole meeting was Smyrna's big hearted and royal reception given to the delegates. Every home for miles around was put at the disposal of the visiting messengers and each service became more and more inspiring and interesting. On Sunday morning a large and enthusiastic delegation came down from Nashville to spend the day. Some came by train and others in automobiles. It was agreed so it was learned, that the next session of the convention is to be held in Clarksville, Tenn. This invitation was presented immediately after the big association from the western part of the state joined hand with the Missionary Baptist State Convention. The address delivered by the Rev. R. H. Boyd on Sunday afternoon on the Rising Progress of the Negro Baptists was a splendid contribution to the accomplishments of the denomination. The following officers were elected.

Many beautiful hymns were sung by the choir of which Prof. Windrow was director up to the time of his death which position he filled with honor as he was an accomplished musician.

One of the most touching incidents connected with the funeral was the pathetic solo sung by Miss Salene McGavock of Nashville. The most prominent white gentlemen of Murfreesboro occupied one side of the church which had been reserved for them. The Mayor, Ex-Mayor and Judge were included in this number, each of whom made interesting talks on the life and character of Prof. Windrow as a citizen, and with their love and esteem for him they seemed to lose sight of color, and simply spoke of him as a true Christian gentleman, and as a loyal American citizen.

In short they left nothing unsaid that would lift this noble man to the highest pinnacle of esteem.

Hon. J. C. Napier, ex-Register of U. S. Treasury made an interesting talk in regard to the true friendship that existed between him and Prof. Windrow. He said the race had lost a great man. A man who was not only prominent in the business world but who took the lead in every move that stood for the uplift of his people, socially, morally and intellectually.

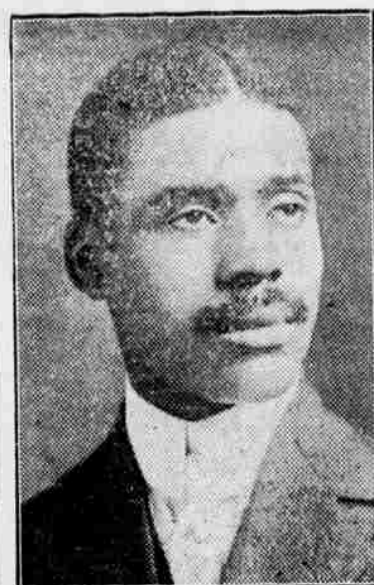

The church was filled to its greatest capacity. Every seat was taken and even standing room was at a premium. The floral offerings were numerous, beautiful and extravagantly elaborate. Many of them were given by the most prominent white families of Murfreesboro. Many out of town people attended this funeral.

Prominent among those who went from Nashville were Hon. and Mrs. J. C. Napier, Dr. Alonzo Napier, Mr. C. N. Langston, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Stewart, daughter and son and Miss Compton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bostie, who are related to Prof. Windrow and Dr. and Mrs. Miller.

The active pall-bearers were Messrs. Preston Scales, Ben E. Scales, Clarence Jordan, Sery Scales, Earl Scales and Wm. Redmond, all nephews of Prof. Windrow.

Honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Joe Alexander, Walter Page, James Smith, George Ransom, Luke Murphy, I. T. Oat.

Mr. Preston Scales, the prominent colored undertaker of Murfreesboro had the funeral in charge.

First Lieutenant J. L. Leach, Medical Reserve Corps U. S. Army.

all the people in Tennessee alike. It is also commendable to note with what favor the members of the various Boards took to the suggestion.

While the plan is not complete, it is being worked out by the members of the various Boards and Dr. Leach, whom the Governor will commission to do the work. Dr. Leach has the endorsement of the members of each Board and when the plan is complete it is expected that he will serve all the Board in turn.

This honor comes to Dr. Leach owing to his high standing in the community and his recent commission as First Lieutenant in the Medical Reserve Corps U. S. Army.

It is hoped to have all the colored drafts from the various Boards to appear in one place, the colored Y. M. C. A., where Dr. Leach and perhaps another member of the Examining Board will make the examination and the papers will be turned over to the doctor in charge of the Board. If the draft claims exemption he will then be further examined and the Board as a body will pass upon the merit of the case.

At this writing the exact date of the drawing cannot be named owing to the states failing to report their readiness. Dr. Leach's appointment to this important place marks another step in his already brilliant career. Nashville is proud of her sons.
